Opponents of Satellite Bill Filibustering

Senate Leaders Attempt To Get Action on Program

WASHINGTON (AP)—Senators opposing private ownership of a proposed communications satellite corporation resume their filibuster fight today, armed with unused stores of oratorical ammunition.

The Senate meets two hours earlier than usual for what promises to be another round of frustration for party leaders in their efforts to bring up the administration's communications satellite bill.

The measure provides for the public and communications companies to share 50-50 in the stock of a corporation to launch and operate communications satellites.

Filibustering advocates of government ownership, numbering perhaps a few more than a dozen liberals, have blocked any substantial progress on the bill since Democratic leader Mike Mansfield of Montana first tried to bring it up last Thursday.

A session was called Saturday in an effort to keep the pressure on the liberals. But much of the pressure turned out to be on the leaders themselves. They spent more than 10 hours getting together the 50 senators required to conduct Senate business.

There was only six minutes of talking in the unusual Saturday session, with foes of the administration holding onto their ammunition for another day.

The little band of determined liberals, is demonstrating again that the Senate can be blocked from acting on almost any issue.

But by using the filibuster against the communications bill the liberals may be putting themselves in an embarrassing position.

"I don't think they can come into future battles for civil rights legislation with clean hands," Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey, D-Minn., told a newsmen Sunday.

On civil rights and other issues Humphrey usually lines up with the liberals now bucking the administration. This time the assistant Democratic leader is guiding efforts to get action on the administration bill.

Southern Democrats who support the bill made it clear that they would not vote to shut off debate if administration leaders tried that device. To vote for cloture might put southerners in an embarrassing position for any future filibusters against civil rights legislation.

Marines End Occupation Of Thailand

BANGKOK, Thailand (AP)—The last 1,800 U.S. Marines have left Thailand but America's Navy chief says they can move back just as fast if needed to defend the country against the Communists.

Departure of the Marines Sunday left the defense of Thailand to the 2,000-man U.S. 27th Infantry Wolfhounds, skilled in jungle fighting, and the 90,000-man Thai army, U.S.-trained and equipped.

The American forces moved into Thailand in May when pro-Communist guerrillas in Laos had swept to the Thai border. That was the guerrillas' last big push before the formation of a coalition regime pledged to take Laos out of the cold war.

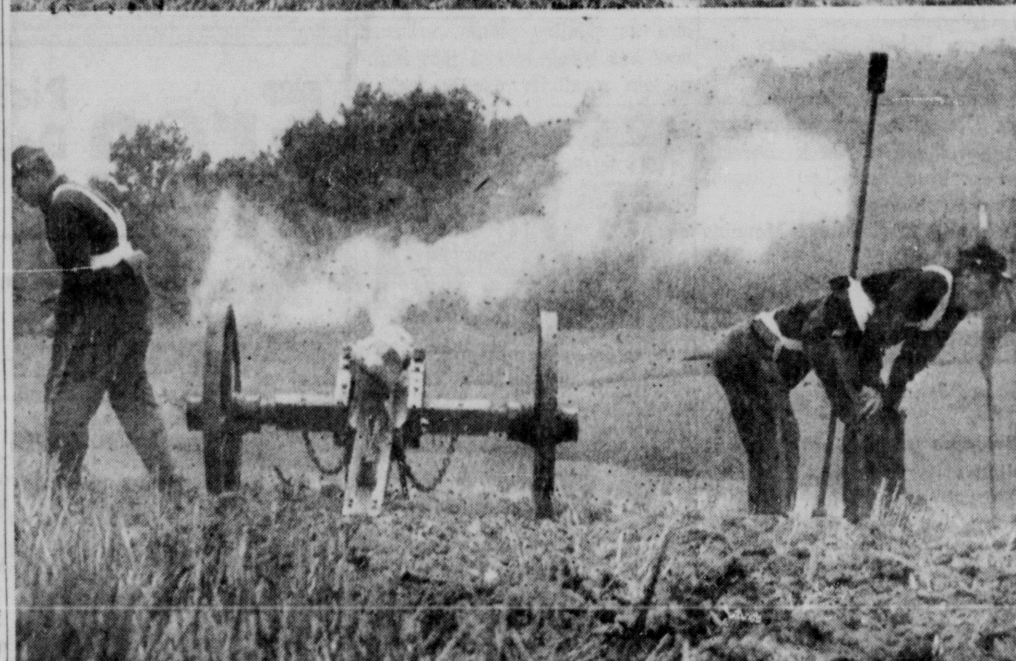

Thai officials made plain Sunday they don't have much confidence in the ability of Laos to steer a neutral course and prevent Communist infiltration into Thailand and South Viet Nam.

Adm. George W. Anderson, U.S. chief of naval operations, said in Bangkok that the Marines could return to Thailand "with utmost celerity whenever needed."

The Marines' departure obviously was linked to the 14-nation agreement signed in Geneva last week guaranteeing the independence and neutrality of Laos. The withdrawal apparently signified a lessening of concern in Washington over the security of Thailand's border.

Uniformed Civil War Buffs In Action

RE-ENACTMENT — A girl drummer (top photo) prepares to beat out the cadence as Union forces moved forward Sunday to stage sham battle reminiscent of Confederate Gen. John Morgan's surrender in Southern Columbiana County. In center, smoke billows from an old cannon fired toward Confederates hiding in woods on Martin Adams farm, a half-mile west of Monroeville, scene of the original battle 99 years ago, and (bottom photo) firing squad of local Ohio Volunteer Infantry regiment fires salute in tribute to memory of a confederate soldier, John Miller, buried in West Grove Cemetery on Frank Lafferty farm. It marked the first time a Union force had fired a volley over the Confederate grave.

State Puts OK On Paving Of Jennings Ave.

Another hurdle has been cleared successfully in the city's efforts to obtain financial assistance from the federal government for the proposed repaving of Jennings Ave.

Mayor Dean B. Cranmer was notified today by William McKenna, director of Division 11, Ohio Highway Department, that the state has approved the project and is recommending it to the Federal Bureau of Public Roads.

If the federal agency gives its approval, funds to resurface the street with asphalt are expected to be made available to the city this fiscal year which started July 1.

Jennings Ave. recently was placed in the federal-aid secondary highway system, thus qualifying it for federal assistance.

City Engineer F. S. Barckhoff, Jr., has estimated the cost for resurfacing Jennings Ave. from W. State St. to about two-tenths mile south of the north corporation line would be approximately $20,000.

On streets in the federal-aid secondary highway system, the federal government usually shares the cost with the city on a 50-50 basis. If the project costs $20,000 and the federal government pays half, that would leave $5,000 to be paid by the property owners on Jennings Ave. and $5,000 to be taken care of by the city income tax capital improvements fund.

Morgan's Surrender Re-enacted In County

"Union" and "Confederate" forces clashed in southern Columbiana Sunday afternoon but the battle was only re-enactment of Confederate General John Hunt Morgan's ill-fated ride back in 1863 when he was captured near West Point.

Civil War cannons boomed along the valley of the west branch of Beaver Creek, horses whinnied and an estimated 1,000 persons watched as county Civil War buffs carried out their realistic drama.

Camera fans and history students had a field day as a horse group and motorcade traveled the route of the cavalry raid. There was a sham battle at Monroeville south of Salineville and another near the monument marking the rebel surrender between West Point and Gavers.

The 19th Ohio Volunteer Infantry regiment, a reactivated unit with headquarters at Alliance, and the 104th Ohio Volunteer Infantry, a Salem district unit, took part in the mock battles in which three six-pounder cannons spewed thick clouds of white smoke after ear-splitting discharges.

Horsemen of the Tri-State Boot and Saddle Club, Mahoning County Sheriff's posse and Carroll County riders began the day's program starting to trace the route from West Grove Cemetery.

A motorcade formed about noon at the Bethesda Presbyterian Church near Millport and moved south to Monroeville where the first battle was staged. All converged later at the monument area when a second battle was enacted.

THE MONUMENT marks the farthest northern advance by the Southern troops.

Guerrilla Troops Take Over Algiers

Court Battle Due In Albany Racial Dispute

Movement Falters As Negroes Refuse March on City Hall

ALBANY, Ga. (AP)—This city's lengthy integration fight headed today for a court battle over marches, picketing, boycotting and other activities.

With 266 persons arrested last week, Negro followers of the Albany Movement showed little inclination Sunday of joining their leaders in jail.

Efforts to stage a demonstration produced three persons from a crowd of several hundred. The three went to City Hall, prayed and left.

Scheduled for 2 p.m. today was a hearing before U.S. Dist. Judge J. Robert Elliott. City officials have asked him to enjoin integrationists permanently from protest demonstrations and other activities.

Meanwhile, integration leader Dr. Martin Luther King Jr., jailed here Friday for the third time, lounged in blue silk pajamas Sunday and spent his time reading, writing and listening to a transistor radio. King was among 10 Negroes arrested for refusing to disperse after staging a prayer session in front of City Hall.

King's aide, the Rev. Wyatt Tee Walker, tried to arouse several hundred Negroes at the mass rally Sunday.

"Today is a fateful day," Walker said. "This is a decisive moment in the history of Albany."

Red Admiral Boasts Of Atomic Subs

MOSCOW (AP)—The Soviet Union has built the world's most modern navy, its chief claims. Adm. Sergei Gorshkov said the fleet's basis is atomic submarines armed with rockets and torpedoes with nuclear warheads.

The Soviet naval commander made the boast Sunday in a Pravda article commemorating Navy Day. Part of the celebration included a television program from the Baltic port of Leningrad showing a submarine that resembled American nuclear-powered underwater craft.

Many Western experts believe the Soviet navy includes subs capable of underwater firing of missiles similar to the American Polaris.

"The Soviet fleet is now more modern than the navy of any capitalist country," Adm. Gorshkov wrote in Pravda.

"The basis of our naval fleet is atomic submarines armed with powerful rockets and homing torpedoes with nuclear warheads. They have high speed, great depth of submergence and can operate for extended periods in the most distant regions."

Soviet Vice Adm. S. Zakharov said Saturday Soviet nuclear submarines are faster and more maneuverable than American subs.

In another Navy Day article, Gorshkov said in an interview with Sovetskaya Rossiya that his new submarines have journeyed under the Arctic ice cap, a feat first accomplished by the American nuclear sub Nautilus in August 1958.

Reports of the Barents Sea exercises, which were witnessed by Premier Khrushchev, convinced some Western naval specialists that Russia now has the Polaris-type weapons systems which it has boasted of for some time.

19 Killed In Saturday Disaster

Track Blamed For Train Derailment

STEELTON, Pa. (AP)—A Pennsylvania Railroad official says the derailment of a baseball special in which 19 persons were killed and 100 injured Saturday "was apparently the result of track being out of alignment."

"But a definite cause cannot be assigned until a thorough investigation has been completed," James F. Newell, the Pennsylvania's vice president in charge of operations, said Sunday.

The Pennsylvania Public Utility Commission joined the railroad in the investigation of the derailment, and the Interstate Commerce Commission was prepared to move into the probe.

Newell's statement concerning the track alignment was based on first-hand reports given by Howard C. Kohout, the railroad's regional manager in Philadelphia. Kohout directed the salvage and repair crews that worked throughout Saturday night to repair the 1,500 feet of track. With its main line back in service, the railroad began preparations to hoist the three dead cars which tumbled down an embankment into the shallow waters of the Susquehanna River.

Another railroad spokesman said track was being repaired last week in the area of the derailment.

The wreck was the nation's worst rail disaster since Sept. 15, 1958, when 48 persons died in a train that plunged from an open drawbridge into Newark Bay at Bayonne, N.J.

The baseball special, carrying fans to a National League game in Philadelphia, left nearby Harrisburg — where all passengers

Will Vie In Miss America Contest

19-Year-Old Sandusky Girl Named Miss Ohio

SANDUSKY, Ohio (AP)—A 19-year-old Sandusky brunette with a flair for dramatics will represent the Buckeye State in the annual Miss America Pageant at Atlantic City Sept. 3.

Jacquelyn Jeanne Mayer, whose nickname is "Jackie," won the Miss Ohio crown at Mansfield Saturday night with a reading from George Bernard Shaw's "St. Joan," and took top honors in the swim suit-evening gown competition. She was selected over 21 entrants who had been judged local winners for their beauty and talent.

She's 5-foot-5 and measures 36-22-36.

"I'm exhausted," said the dark-haired beauty Sunday night after arriving home from Mansfield. "I'm going to work hard to develop my personality, talent, the way I walk... everything, before I go to Atlantic City," she said.

She was "sort of surprised" at winning and said she thought she had a chance after the preliminary talent and swim suit competition.

Miss Mayer, who has been singing professionally with Fred Waring's Pennsylvanians since last winter, has completed her freshman year at Northwestern University. She said she plans to continue making records and performing on television with the Waring group, but she won't be able to travel with them because of her commitments as Miss Ohio. However, unless her plans are

Union Chief To Testify On Tax Cut

WASHINGTON (AP)—AFL-CIO President George Meany, who advocates immediate tax cutting to help spur business recovery, testifies today before a congressional group studying the nation's economy.

Meany said last month he had written President Kennedy, urging a quick reduction in the lowest income tax bracket. Such a cut, Meany said then, would have a maximum effect on the economy.

The House Ways and Means Committee heard last week from business representatives and economists. The tax-writing group has sought to keep its proceedings under a tight lid, taking testimony behind closed doors and pledging the witnesses to secrecy.

The House group has emphasized that it is taking a broad look at the economy and is not studying possibilities of tax reductions. Sen. Paul Douglas, D-Ill., aligned himself Sunday with those who would go slow in considering an immediate tax cut.

Said Douglas: "At Bunker Hill, the commander of the American troops said, 'Don't fire until you see the whites of their eyes.' I wouldn't fire in the form of a tax cut until we saw the whites of the eyes of the recession."

He said there is "no clear proof that we are going to have a recession and certainly we are not at the moment, in a recession."

Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey, D-Minn., persisted, meanwhile, in his advocacy of an immediate tax cut. The assistant Senate Democratic leader said in a statement the administration should not wait until there is a decline and unemployment starts to snowball.

The President has said he will wait for reports on July business activity, due next month, before making his mind up on whether to press for an immediate tax reduction.

Army Believed To Favor Bella's Bid For Power

Khedda, Officials Not Molested by Invasion Forces

ALGIER (AP)—Algerian guerrilla troops held Algiers today after a bloodless coup believed to favor dissident Vice Premier Ahmed Ben Bella's quest for power.

Several known opponents of Ben Bella were arrested. Among them was Amar Oussedik, political commissar of the Algiers autonomous zone, which the guerrilla leaders said was dissolved.

Premier Ben Youssef Ben Khedda and officials of his government were not molested.

Two thousand guerrillas of the Wilaya (Zone) No. 4 surrounding Algiers occupied the city at dawn Sunday. Their commander, 27-year-old Col. Si Hassan said he hoped to form a junta of wilaya commanders to head the government until elections are held in the newly independent nation. Elections for a constituent assembly are scheduled Aug. 12.

The guerrilla command announced it had taken control to re-establish national unity. It pledged to "open the gates" of the capital to all political tendencies seeking a solution to the new nation's political problems.

The announcement was considered a prelude to the installation in Algiers of the seven-man political bureau Ben Bella is sponsoring.

In Paris, Ben Bella's right-hand man, Mohammed Khider, told a news conference the political bureau would be in Algiers on Thursday or Friday. It was set up in the western Algerian city of Tlemcen under Ben Bella's control.

But Khider also warned that "the situation is very grave. If stability is not established within a month, I fear the worst."

The guerrilla troops first seized Radio Algiers, which beamed their appeal to the population for "calm and support."

The city remained quiet throughout the day. Crowds poured out to the beaches as usual.

The only sign of the coup were soldiers in camouflage uniforms and machine guns set up in some streets in predominantly Moslem areas.

Officials of Ben Khedda's regime said the guerrilla coup "restored the status quo." They claimed Hassan acted to do away with "illegal power usurped by the autonomous zone since last April 2."

Privately, some of them admitted the guerrillas acted to show

There Was a Strong Reaction

It has been a year since President Kennedy made us gulp with the strength of his reaction to the latest Russian threat of trouble in Berlin.

He asked for an additional three and quarter billion dollars for the military forces, an increase in authorized strength for the Army, Navy and Air Force, doubled and tripled draft calls, activated many Air Transport squadrons and Air National Guard tactical squadrons and said he would make a special effort to beef up civil defense.

"We cannot and will not permit the Communists to drive us out of Berlin, either gradually or by force," he declared.

In the light of steps taken to strengthen U.S. ability to resist, there seemed little doubt the President must have learned about something ominous afoot. Of particular significance was emphasis on civil defense—a presidential promise to let every citizen know what he could do to protect his family in case of attack, issuance of a civil defense booklet telling how to cope with a hypothetical burst at ground level, a food-stocking program and a shelter fallout program.

LESS THAN a month later the now-famous wall separating West and East Berlin was started. Tension increased still further.

Yet today, though strong statements again are being made about Berlin, the men called up to prove to the world the United States meant what it said about Berlin are being sent back to civilian life.

There has been no material change in the military posture of NATO to explain this. Gen. Lauris Norstad, resigning as chief of NATO forces, says there is "no unusual pressure" on his office at the present time. Civil defense has been permitted to cool off.

THE BITTER REACTION of many of the men called out of civilian life to prove President Kennedy meant what he said about staying in Berlin has been discounted by this time, but the fact remains they still are not certain what they accomplished.

"The full effect of this mission on the world situation may never be known," declared Lt. Col. Paul E. Hoover in a statement to the Ohio National Guardsmen before the first group started home from France. "But if it has created a second look by those responsible for major decisions and averted a war then you men have accomplished something through your military service that many of our leaders in the past have been unable to achieve."

We doubt that anyone will make a more concise summary of the uncertainty that grew out of our military muscle-flexing a year ago.

Our Thrust Is In Electronics

Secretary of State Ted Brown isn't pinning down a proposal for permanent voter registration with precise details on methods. But his belief this is going to be done eventually sounds so attractive we can put our faith in electronics and hope for the best.

When Secretary Brown talks about permanent registration he means national registration—a method of registering all qualified U.S. voters for their adult lifetimes.

Ohio broke the ice on voting for presidential electors when it changed its law in 1959 to permit new residents of the state to vote if they had been qualified to vote in another state. They were required only to present a certified statement to the clerk of the board of elections concerning their qualifications to vote in another state.

As to our trust in electronics, it might have this effect:

Each of us would come into possession of one of those clever cards punched full of mysterious holes. The card would signify everything the world needs to know about our credentials—the fact we are qualified to vote, our certificate of birth, our official number with Internal Revenue Service, our Social Security number, our credit rating, blood type, clearance by the FBI, passport, schooling and educational credentials—all in code, of course.

When a question came up about any of these things we'd whip out our card and it would run through one of those electronic gadgets that translates perforations into official information. We then could vote, go abroad, charge meals in restaurants, buy gasoline on credit and just about everything else.

There's nothing electronics cannot do for us if we are firm. It already is making decisions about national defense and foreign policy. That little card should be no tax on its resources at all.

Learn to Swim

More than one drowning victim this summer has been a person who didn't know how to swim.

The Salem Park Commission will take registrations Wednesday for the concluding Red Cross swimming classes, scheduled to begin at the Centennial Park pool next Monday. There are classes for every age group, an opportunity that comes only once a year.

Learn to swim and then you won't have to heed the admonition, "Don't go near the water." You can enjoy it instead.

Inside Labor

EAST BERLIN
This is being written at a corner table in the Budapest Cafe on Karl Marx Allee, formerly Stalin St. I have now crossed and recrossed the wall, which truly is two walls with barbed wire woven into "dragon's teeth" of steel in between.

I have run my finger along the five-foot thickness of concrete as hard and cold as the hearts of the men who put it there. My flesh crawled. My innards curdled as I walked freely in and out while gaunt, anguished faces of East Berliners watched from distant corners and from nearby windows.

This is the second time I walked through the checkpoint, the East German customs and the rain-drenched Unter den Linden. Then a taxi ride through the Marx Engels Platz to the "allee" of giant, patched-up apartment houses, a few casual turns around the central square, and my contact of last year was walking just as casually alongside me.

The security forces are armed. They observe the work right on the mill floor. Not one of the 6,000 employees is ever out of sight of such a guard, not even in the washroom.

IT WAS HE of the locomotive works who told me last year that East Germany's food supply system and industrialism were cracking up and that Moscow soon would do something drastic.

That was two weeks before we were awakened one night and told that the Eastern sector had been cut off by a barbed wire fence.

It is he who told me this time of growing tensions and hatred amongst the people behind the wall and the subdued hysteria amongst the Communist (SED) party leadership—and my friend predicted an explosion of some sort.

For the East German government of Walter Ulbricht, first secretary of the Communist party, the shortage of manpower has become so critical that the East Zone imported Chinese laborers.

The Orientals came in from Albania, oddly enough, and from Czechoslovakia to work in the East German coal and newly-opened uranium pits.

THE CHINESE workers from Czechoslovakia were released by the Prague government because they were no longer needed at the Joachimsthal uranium deposits, where the fissionable ore has been running low. The surplus Chinese miners were sent on to East Germany.

Apparently Chairman Khrushchev built his own version of a Chinese Wall just a little too late. True, the flow of 25,000 refugees a month has sluiced down to a trickle of 35 a week. But many of the skilled workers have gone, along with strong and youthful manpower.

I was, for example, told of the truly brutal speedup in the Brandenburg Steel Mill. There men are driven almost down to dusk to whip out their quotas.

There some 6,000 men are watched constantly by squads of guards.

The security forces are armed. They observe the work right on the mill floor. Not one of the 6,000 employees is ever out of sight of such a guard, not even in the washroom.

NOT FAR from where I now jot down this report there is the East Berlin Peoples Elektrokohle "enterprise." There, in the name of Lenin, squads of "activists" have led in a speedup almost twice that of last year. Men break under the 6 days double pace.

Yet the activists explain it all by saying that, "We want to increase the output of production during the same work time and for the same wages and by this peaceful action bridge the West German imperialists."

By Victor Riesel

Actually the activists are merely a subcommittee of the Communist party unit at the plan. This was the lead-off operation for all East Berlin and East Germany.

Signs of the tensions which slowly are forcing the East Germans against the wall are the strikes flaring in state-owned factories and even on collective farms.

Workers have been ordered to work full time on many holidays without any overtime or holiday pay or commensurate time off.

NO MAN can change his job, or his residence, or make any move on the industrial or economic front without approval of some arrogant bureaucrat of the state planning committee. No man can go into private business.

Only 2 per cent of all commerce and industry in any one sector can be privately owned—and there is never a "vacancy."

This bitter unrest was acknowledged by Ulbricht some months ago when he told the East German Central Committee that "enemy elements" were attempting to influence the workers and have made much of "supply difficulties." This, he said was leading to a lack of "labor discipline."

Ulbricht also threatened brutal action against those who oppose building up of the state, which means any who might lead strikes or slowdowns.

Herr Ulbricht talked like a frightened man. He knows you can compress a people just so long and then wall or no wall—they will explode into angry spontaneously formed legions.

I will not cross this wall again. It hems you in—even when you know you're free to come out. Something happens to you inside, because you know how many imprisoned ones you've left behind as you stride back into freedom.

Aid for GOP

By DAVID LAWRENCE

JFK May Hinder Democrat Candidates

President Kennedy may not realize it, but he could unwittingly help to elect more Republicans than Democrats to Congress in the elections this autumn.

He has announced that he himself will actively campaign against certain Republican nominees and in favor of selected Democrats.

Presidents in the past who have tampered with congressional elections have had unfortunate experiences. The voters resent presidential interference. In fact, it has operated in some cases as a distinct advantage to the candidate of the party opposite to that of the president. Already the speech-makers for Republican congressional nominees are busily preparing a typical campaign ad-

The reason, of course, is that to do so would jeopardize his relations with influential Democrats in Congress who, if re-elected, will remain chairmen of powerful committees. Mr. Kennedy must depend on their cooperation in moving his legislative proposals along from the time they are introduced and sent to the floor from the committees and on till the final vote.

SO THE PRESIDENT has determined to fight only Republicans. Here is how he put it to his news conference this week: "The areas I will be campaigning in are seats where there will be a very clear choice between Republicans who oppose these actions, and Democrats who support them."

But usually when a president comes to a district or a state, he makes only a casual reference to the local nominees of his party. This is regarded more as a gesture of political courtesy and good will than as an appeal for support based on votes on any particular measures.

Mr. Kennedy, however, intimates now that he will campaign on specific issues and will ask electorates to support candidates for whom he campaigns.

This is something novel, because it raises a question with the voters as to why a president finds himself compelled to come to their states or districts.

This could, of course, provide a better opportunity to publicize every detail of a controversial issue than is customarily available in congressional campaigns. The average candidate likes to steer clear of details and to talk only in generalities.

An intensive debate on medical care for the aged, on the other hand, could prove a boomerang to its supporters. In fact, while there is a relatively small number of voters who would be affected by this legislation, the impact on the other voters could be far-reaching, especially if social security deductions are to be increased and the impression develops that the cost of medical care itself is likely to be raised or the quality of the care impaired because of governmental interference.

THE SAME SORT of controversy can arise on legislation sought unsuccessfully by the White House on agriculture, public works, urban affairs and mass transit, which the President mentioned this week as a basis for his campaigning this autumn.

A congressional opponent has only to argue that he will win all these questions on their merits and will not be a "rubber stamp" congressman who takes the view that "the king can do no wrong" or that party loyalty requires him to ignore the wishes of the people of his district and support the president, even when the administration is in the wrong.

Presidential intervention in the coming congressional campaign may indeed bring a decision by the citizens to support the candidate who has no obligations or commitments or conflicts of interest when it comes times for him, as an elected member of Congress to cast his vote as the people of his district or state may desire.

From the Mailbag

NEW YORK (AP)—Things a columnist might never know if he didn't open his mail:

Although the world has some 6,000 languages, half of the people on earth speak one of seven major tongues. Of these, English is by far the most widely understood.

France is considered the international feminine fashion center but a recent poll in Paris revealed that men there spend more money on their clothing than women do.

Prosperity note: Americans spend more each year to buy and operate automobiles than the combined total national income of Canada and Mexico.

Blue for dunning: Only one tenant in five pays his rent promptly on the first of the month. Landlords have found they get their rent money back sooner if they mail out notices on blue instead of white paper.

Tippling time: Of Californians who enjoy drinking, a state public health survey found, three out of four like to have glass in hand while viewing television. With some programs it's a big help!

Our quotable notables: "By all means marry; if you get a good wife, you'll become happy; if you get a bad one, you'll become a philosopher."—Socrates.

Lost on purpose: According to Interpol—International Police Organization—there are more than four million missing persons in the world—most of them husbands.

How old is your buggy? The average age of U.S. automobiles last year was 5.89 years, that of trucks 7.83 years.

Household hint: Tell your wife that if she wants to "touch up" your wash-wear clothing after laundering, to iron them lightly wrong side out. That'll avoid surface shine.

This may be a tough time for people, but Rover never had it so good. There are now 3,000 brands of dog food on the market.

Wisecrack of the week: Crooner Mike Clifford says his girl friend serves him television dinners that melt in his mouth. (He only wishes she'd defrost them first.)

Loose of games: Playing cards once were the diversion only of the nobility and were hand-painted. In 1415 the Duke of Milan had artist Marziano da Torton execute a personal deck of cards for him and paid him 1,500 pieces of gold for the job.

It was Robert Frost who observed, "the world is full of willing people; some willing to work, the rest willing to let them."

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: Usually I applaud your answers but recently you let me down with a thud. Your reply to the woman who complained about a frigid husband indicated that you know nothing of the problem.

The woman said she had a warm and affectionate nature. Her husband was an icicle. You asked, somewhat unsympathetically, "How come you haven't warmed him up after all these years?"

Let me tell you, Ann Landers, you just don't warm up an icicle. I know because I tried for several years. I was coy and teasing. I threw myself at him and played hard-to-get. I put on candlelight suppers and served everything from champagne to beer. I wore tattered pants then switched to a chiffon negligee. I even installed stereo and played everything from tangos and twist music to Beethoven and Chopin.

No, you can't warm up an icicle. You can do other things, however. You can lose your mind, take a lover or become dried up and bitter.

Don't tell me to see a doctor because I am—AN MD'S WIFE.

Regrets Haste

Dear Ann: The woman who signed herself "Lonesome Lady" is a great deal luckier than I was. Her erstwhile admirer was honest enough to tell her in advance that his daughters would always come first. I married the man and THEN found out I was playing third fiddle.

Before marriage I was completely open about my financial holdings. He felt that since I had money from my first husband's estate I should pay half of all living expenses, taxes, utilities, food, clothing, club memberships, etc. I agreed.

Then one day I learned that he had quietly bought fur jackets, automobiles and other luxuries for his married daughters. I blew my top. In a bitter argument he told me he owed his daughters more than he owed me. After that remarkable pronouncement I suggested he go live with them.

The pay off: We separated and neither one of his daughters would have him. So now he's phoning me every evening and I am—NOT AT HOME.

Dear Not: You married for companionship and it still may be possible to achieve that end. Give him another chance. He should be especially appreciative after his double belt in the chops.

Confidentially

TO DISILLUSIONED: Why be annoyed with HIM? All he did was blow the whistle on the phony bum. Be grateful.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Salem News, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

E. Liverpool Area Drivers In Mishaps

No one was hurt in three minor traffic accidents on area highways over the weekend, the State Highway Patrol posts at Lisbon and Canfield report.

Liverpool area drivers were involved in all three mishaps.

Cars operated by Louise G. Smith, 33, of RD 1, and Barbara Starkey, 34, of MC 22, East Liverpool, collided at 7:45 p.m. Saturday on Township Rd. 925 near Glenmoor. The Patrol said Mrs. Starkey made a left turn onto the township road and struck the south-bound vehicle driven by Mrs. Smith.

A car driven south on Rt. 30 by Carl E. Hopple, 19, of RD 3, East Liverpool, ran off the right side of the road and struck a highway marker sign just north of Rt. 170 near Calcutta, the Patrol reported. The mishap occurred at 2:30 a.m. Sunday.

John C. Rohrer, 18, lost control of his car on County Rd. 428, about one mile north of East Liverpool, at 6:10 p.m. Sunday, ran off the right side of the road through the lawn of Frank Dudgeon and struck an embankment.

VOLUNTEER FIREMEN were able at times Sunday to contain the deliberately-set fire at the old Montour Railroad station in Rogers (top photo) but finally the flames and smoke roared through the historic frame structure (lower photo). Burning embers were still smoldering this morning.

Rogers Railroad Station Is 'Victim' of Sunday Fire

ROGERS—Approximately 1,000 persons watched Sunday while 100 area firemen staged a practice burning session, using the old Montour Railroad station house as the subject.

Don Mahon, chief of the Negley Volunteer Fire Department, was in charge with three fire-fighting units. The session started at 1 p. m. and lasted about five and a half hours.

The 76-year-old station was destroyed, as planned. The historic landmark along Route 7 had not been used for years although an upstairs apartment was occupied by a family about 10 years ago.

The Rogers Volunteer Fire Department, Sidney Cowan, chief, used a 1962 fire truck loaned by the American Fire Apparatus Co. in a first attempt to extinguish the flames which almost got out of control in the dry wood.

Other departments were present from Warren, Assistant Chief B. LaBarry in charge; East Palestine, Chief Glen Libert; New Waterford, Chief Charles Harrison; and White Township of Beaver County, Pa.

The burning demonstration marked the end of 10 weeks of instruction at the Negley Fire Department.

Rogers Department Ladies Auxiliary operated an outdoor refreshment stand during the session.

America contest.

Miss Toledo, Bonnie Jean Gawronski, 19, a Bowling Green State University junior, was named first-runner-up.

Winner of the over-all talent contest and second runner-up was Miss Cincinnati, Mary Ann Cannon.

The contestants selected Miss South Central Ohio, 18-year-old Joy Lorraine Washburn of Jackson, as Miss Congeniality.

Among Miss Mayer's hobbies are swimming and horseback riding.

"I don't get too much time for them, though," she said. "I've been participating at the Huron Playhouse in Huron, Ohio." Miss Mayer said she is majoring in theatre at Northwestern and the Huron Playhouse is operated in conjunction with Bowling Green State University, where she is getting credit for acting this summer.

Asked whether she had a boy friend, Miss Ohio replied: "I have a couple, but nothing steady."

She said she looked for these qualities in a man: "He should be considerate, responsible and be able to mix well with people."

boarded—at 5 p.m.

It was rolling along about 70 miles an hour, railroad officials said, when the derailment occurred next to the Bethlehem Steel Co. plant in this central Pennsylvania steel town.

Engineer J. F. Shue of Royalton, Pa., told railroad officials he was doing between 65 and 70 miles per hour. Officials said the speed limit over the straight stretch is 75 mph.

Railroad officials said the stretch of track at Steelton was used by 40 or 50 trains a day. Just an hour before the derailment, officials said, a mail train passed over the same track.

After tumbling down an angled 40-foot embankment, two of the shattered cars of the nine-car coach train came to rest on their sides. A third car, its roof shredded, remained upright in about three feet of water.

Thief Steals 6 Hams At Provision Company

The Supreme Provision Co. on Rt. 62 south of Sebring was broken into early this morning and six fresh hams were stolen, Smith Township Constable Herbert Bolla reports.

The intruders passed up large quantities of other meats, including smoked hams. Entry to the building was gained by smashing out a door window, the constable said.

their anger with the political squabbling, which has created an administrative and economic vacuum in Algeria.

There was no evidence of any hostility between the Wilaya 4 guerrillas and the troops of the autonomous zone. The latter continued to guard some official buildings.

The wilaya command also assured Europeans still in Algiers they could look to the future with "calm and hope." It said it fully approves the Evian peace accords guaranteeing the rights of European settlers in independent Algeria.

Club Padlock Hearing To Resume Tuesday

LISBON — A "padlock" hearing before Common Pleas Court Judge Joel H. Sharp to close the veteran's social club in East Liverpool will be held Tuesday at 10 a.m.

This is the third hearing to close the club in the East End of East Liverpool, as requested by G. William Brokaw, county prosecutor. The state presented a greater part of its case at a temporary injunction hearing July 20, at which time several residents adjacent to the club testified concerning the noise and indignities witnessed by them.

Atty. Hugo Alexander of Steubenville on July 24 filed a demurrer, contending that several causes of the injunction action in the state's petition were misjoined but Judge Sharp ruled the causes were properly joined.

It is expected that most of the testimony will be presented by witnesses for the defense at the Tuesday's session.

Greenhoe-Fronk Nuptials Held At Sweetwater, Tenn.

The First Presbyterian Church of Sweetwater, Tenn., was the locale of the wedding Saturday of Miss Nancy Cole Greenhoe of Midland, Mich., daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Dewey R. Greenhoe of Sweetwater, to William Richard Fronk, also of Midland, Mich., son of Mr. and Mrs. George R. Fronk of Country Club Drive, Salem.

Dr. Theodore M. Greenhoe of Midland, uncle of the bride, officiated at the 4 p.m. double ring ceremony, while Miss Mary L. Greenhoe of Athens, Tenn., sister of the bride, presided at the organ. Soloist was Mrs. David B. Burns Jr. of Knoxville, Tenn.

Given in marriage by her father the bride wore a gown of white nylon organza over taffeta, styled with fitted bodice appliqued with Alencon lace and complemented with a sweetheart neckline and short sleeves. An appliqued lace motif was featured on the bell-shaped skirt fashioned of unpressed pleats which fell to a chapel length train. A bow of organza held her fingertip length veil of French illusion.

Mrs. L. Raymond Green Jr., sister of the bride, was matron of honor and bridesmaids were Miss Margaret Fronk of Salem, sister of the bridegroom, and Miss Linda Greenhoe of Midland. They wore dresses of light aqua silk chiffon over taffeta styled with a fitted bodice and scooped neckline. The full gathered skirts featured a shadow hemline and they wore hats to match.

Robert L. Fronk of Columbus served his brother as best man and ushers were Robert Copeland and Lawrence Ault of Midland, John Kinsey of Chicago and L. Raymond Green of Signal Mountain, Tenn.

Immediately following the ceremony a reception for the 700 guests was held in the social rooms of the church. The bride is a graduate of King College, Bristol, Tenn., and is employed as a biologist by the Biochemical Research Laboratory of the Dow Chemical Co. at Midland.

Mr. Fronk holds degrees from Mount Union College and Northwestern University and is a member of Sigma Nu Fraternity and Phi Lambda Upsilon, National honorary chemical fraternity. He is employed as a research chemist by Dow Chemical.

For her honeymoon to Florida Mrs. Fronk wore a dark blue suit with matching accessories. The couple will reside at 515 West Main, Midland, Mich.

Mr. and Mrs. James H. Patton of Sweetwater were hosts at the rehearsal dinner Friday evening.

SECTION 4. That the assessments so to be levied shall be paid in 20 semi-annual installments with interest on deferred payments, at the same rate as shall be borne by the bonds to be issued in anticipation of the collection thereof; provided that the owner of any property assessed, may, at his option, pay such assessment in cash within thirty (30) days after the passage of the assessing ordinance.

SECTION 5. That the City of Salem shall be issued in anticipation of the collection of assessments by installments and in an amount equal thereto; and notes of said city shall be issued in anticipation of the levying of such assessment and the issue of such bonds.

Hints From Heloise

By HELOISE CRUSE

Dear Heloise: When mending a knitted garment . . . place the torn portion over the bristles of a hairbrush. This will prevent the yarn from stretching while you mend it. So easy too.

I also use a corn-pad placed on the lower edge of my doors to stop them from rattling. This will also quiet a noisy window.

ESTHER CRUZ

DEAR HELOISE: After trying all of the suggestions for removing stains from my plastic dinnerware, without results, I decided to try paste-type silver polish. It works just beautifully. It takes a little elbow grease, but you can do the silverware at the same time! Have hot dishwater ready and put both through and then use a hot rinse. All done!

I also found that old toothbrushes are the greatest little scrubbers for those hard to get-at places—faucets in the kitchen and bathroom sinks.

MRS. ERNEST J. RUPP

DEAR HELOISE: Here is a neat trick for those who want a new taste in hamburger and meatloaf. For each two pounds of ground hamburger meat, add one can of tomato aspic! For the hamburger, no egg is necessary. For the meatloaf add your eggs and other condiments as usual.

SECRETARY

Tried this, last weekend and it's really different. Use a little less liquid in the mixture as the aspic suffices for some of it.

HELOISE

DEAR HELOISE: Here is another way to save. Large cucumber pickles will last twice as long and cost half as much as bottled pickles . . . if they are sliced wafer thin on your fruit slicer. After I slice these, I put them in a mild solution of vinegar and water and seal them in a jar.

I keep an old kitchen cup near my washing machine. Most cups hold approximately one cup by measure. Measure your soap first, then bleach. Excellent for starch too.

JOAN MAGUIRE

DEAR HELOISE: I keep a large fluffy powder puff in my flour canister to dust my cake pans with. It works fine.

I have a friend with three growing boys. She hands the clothes down from one to another. Because the children are so close

Tribe Wins Opener, Loses Nightcap to Twins In 11-Innings

Donovan Grabs 14th Win 3-2

Twins Cop 2nd Game 7-5 On Wild Throw

CLEVELAND (AP) — Dick Donovan continues his assault on the 20-victory mark which no Cleveland Indians pitcher has reached since Herb Score, Bob Lemon and Early Wynn each won 20 in 1956.

Donovan hurled six-hitter Donovan posted his 14th triumph with a six-hitter against Minnesota in the opener of a doubleheader Sunday and knocked in a run with a single. The Indians won the first game 3-2 but dropped the nightcap 7-5 in 11 innings.

The Tribe fought back from a 5-2 deficit in the second game to tie the score at 5-5. But a wild throw to first on a bunt fielded by pitcher Bill Dailey allowed the winning run to tally.

Donovan pitched to the minimum 18 batters through the first six innings, and only three fly balls were hit to the outfield the entire game. His single in the seventh innings scored Tito Francona, who had doubled, and broke up a scoreless tie.

The Tribe scored two more runs in the eighth against Georges Maranda.

Ex-Indian Vic Power, who homered in both games, hit his first in the ninth inning with a man on to spoil Donovan's shut-out.

Tribe Almost Wins Pair

The Indians came close to winning the second game in the 10th, but Harmon Killebrew made a good catch of Bubba Phillips' bases-loaded liner to left to end the inning.

The Twins' winning rally in the 11th began with singles by Rich Rollins and Killebrew. Then Dailey threw wild to first on the bunt attempt by Bob Allison, a run scoring on the error. The last run came in on a sacrifice fly.

Firemen Lose In Hot Stove Tourney

A two-run homer in the top of the seventh inning by Farb Tinsley broke a 2-2 deadlock and gave Damascus Auction a 4-2 win over the previously undefeated Salem Fire Department in Class G Hot Stove League sectional play here Saturday.

The defeat was the first in 16 games for the locals, who have triumphed over 14 league foes and two tournament opponents. By virtue of the victory Damascus now goes to the state tournament which will get underway in Alliance on Saturday.

THE FIREMEN WERE Salem's only remaining hope of landing an aggregation in the state event. A total of 11 Salem teams were entered in the sectional tourney but only the Firemen and Moose Lodge made it to the showdown for berths in the state meet. The Moose lost its first tilt in Class H action when it bowed 13-1 Friday to Alliance Buckeye Market. The Moose record is now 14-1.

In other games played here on Saturday Alliance-East End A.C. rolled over the Carrollton First National Bank 12-2 to grab the second Class G berth; Alliance Tappan Built-Ins nipped the Alliance Exchange Club 3-2, and Alliance St. Joseph defeated Sebring Brown & Holt-Mudores Dairy 15-6 as both winners will compete in the Class F section of the state tourney.

Podres, Pascual Will Start All-Star Game

By JOE REICHLER

Associated Press Sports Writer

CHICAGO (AP) — Los Angeles left-hander Johnny Podres, an 11th hour replacement for teammate Don Drysdale, and Minnesota right-hander Camilo Pascual were the opposing pitchers today in the 33rd All-Star game, second of the season between the National and American leagues.

Large Crowd Expected

A Wrigley Field crowd of between 38,000 and 40,000 was expected to be on hand, despite the weatherman's "partly cloudy with chances of showers" forecast. The Nationals won 3-1 at Washington D.C. last July 10. Starting time for the game, to be telecast and broadcast nationally by NBC, was set for 2 p.m. (EST). The Nationals ruled a 6 to 5 favorite.

Podres' starting nomination was a distinct surprise; the 29-year-old southpaw was placed on the squad only Saturday night as a late replacement for Drysdale, who pitched Sunday. Podres' 7-7 season record is drab compared to Drysdale's 19-4.

National League Manager Fred Hutchinson originally had named Warren Spahn, Milwaukee's 41-year-old left-hander, to start. But when Warren complained his elbow had tightened up following his victory over the New York Mets last Thursday, Hutch switched to Podres, who turned in a sparkling 3-1 triumph over San Francisco's Giants Friday night.

Pitched In Other Games

Pascual (15-6), the American League's biggest winner, defeated Cleveland Friday night, 2-1. The 28-year-old curve-ball artist pitched in two previous All-Star games. He hurled hitless ball through three innings in the second 1960 game but was tagged with the first game loss this year, yielding four hits and two runs in his three inning effort.

Suggett, Seddon Place At Canfield Speedway

Ken Suggett and John Seddon, both of Salem, placed in their respective heat races in the amateur division at the Canfield Speedway Saturday. Suggett took fifth position while Seddon came in second in his race.

Chuck Daugherty of Poland won his fourth amateur feature of the season and Jim Bickerstaff of Warren copped his fifth win in the late model finale.

George Barry, WHOT announcer, won the special disc jockey race.

Birkhimer Fires Duce

Gordon Birkhimer of Damascus fired the first duce at the Robbyn's Knoll Golf Course when he had a double eagle on a par-five hole Wednesday.

Birkhimer, playing with Don Cameron, Bert Hendricks and Ike Lippatt, used a driver and a three iron to score his duce.

canto when Chain led the frame off with a single and then was brought home on Tinsley's two-run winning clutch.

PACING THE NINE-HIT attack for the winners were Chain, Tinsley and Kelby Knoedler, all with two hits apiece. Tinsley was also the winning pitcher as he allowed the Firemen only two hits, fanned 12 and did not walk a man.

Bill Makras and Smith rapped the only hits for the losing Fire Department nine. Bob Bentley suffered the loss as he walked four, struck out five and gave up nine safeties.

Those aggregations from the Salem sectional tourney that will vie in the state tournament are as follows:

CLASS D - Portage Southeast and Carrollton McElroy Drugs; CLASS E - Sebring Smith Grange and Bergholz Merchants; CLASS F - Alliance St. Joseph and Alliance Tappan Built-Ins CLASS G - Alliance East End A.C. and Damascus Auction; CLASS H - Alliance Buckeye Market and Purity Da'V-Beloit Ruritans.

Are the Los Angeles Dodgers primed to make a shambles of an old National League tradition—the down-to-the-wire pennant chase?Fired again by the hitting of hander Don Drysdale, the Dodgerscompleted a three-game sweep over the San Francisco Giants

Sunday, crushing their closest pursuers 11-1.The romp increased the Dod-

The Doctor Says

Answers to Problem Child

Many behavior disorders of childhood are due to disease. Others are caused by psychological disturbances, such as an "emotionally charged interaction" between the child and another person," according to a report issued from New York Hospital's mental hygiene clinic.

Frequently this interaction involves parental rejection, excessive parental demands and overprotection. The child's reaction may consist of excessive submission, withdrawal or rebellion, or transfer of the parental relationship to a less demanding or more sympathetic teacher, counselor, clergyman or team coach.

Under these circumstances the mental hygienist or psychiatrist may encounter resistance on the part of child or parents when an investigation is conducted.

THIS IS UNDERSTANDABLE. None of us particularly enjoys being poked in a sensitive spot. And especially, if the spot has become sensitized from some self-inflicted injury.

Sometimes this resistance to inquiry breaks down. In an unguarded moment, a child may indicate that the mother is neglectful or too conscientious. Or the father is disinterested or makes too many and too stern demands. Or that both parents are inconsistent; sometimes punishing too often and too severely, while at other times they let the youngster "get away with murder."

Sometimes, the observant "problem child" will let it be known that the home is too disorderly and messy. Or too neat and fussy. Or that the mother or father imposes standards that are too strict. Or has habits that are too lax with regard to drinking, smoking, gambling or expenditures of money.

SOMETIMES, a particularly honest and co-operative parent will assume responsibility in the course of conversation. Then, with this declaration of fault and assumption of responsibility, the outlook for "cure" of the youngster's behavior disorder brightens. But when this resistance cannot be broken down, the professional investigator must direct attention to "modification of any unhealthy relationship between the child and another person" whether it be a parent, some other member of the household or an outsider. And, under these circumstances, those who are involved must necessarily participate in "family - centered treatment."

Where there are facilities for this type of formal "family - centered treatment," the advice of the New York Hospital investigators is all well and good. But, as most American communities lack these facilities or possess them to an inadequate degree, the solution to most problems of child misbehavior becomes a household responsibility and task.

The first step toward solution of most problems requires adults to take a hard look at their own behavior.
